

Sport Development Report

Cameron Smith - Sport Development Manager

Overview

Sport development was able to continue across the province with freestyle ski programs operating in all of the clubs. The High-Performance BC Teams were able to continue strong with a training year and both the Mogul and Park Teams achieved great results. This past year was an opportunity for the association to progress in many different avenues from coach development, judge development, website/social updates, policies, BC Teams, and prospect programs.

Coach Development New Initiatives | Future Development

The website has gone through a series of updates to stay active with making Freestyle BC's information readily available for coaches and clubs.

- A survey was shared to all Club Directors and Head Coaches with questions asking what the needs are for the club in coach development and LF development
- This survey provided feedback to expand upcoming courses in the Coach Calender on the website
- Coach Requirements - This was an issue overlooked last season with majority of coaches not having adequate requirements (19% coaches were fully qualified & 81% missing requirements)
  - We have worked with Snowreg to provide access to each club to track Coach memberships and athlete memberships
  - We will provide updates to the clubs on Coaching memberships during peak membership season.
- Website Update Coming Soon - We understand that coaches aren't fully aware of the requirements and procedures to track their pathway progress. We will be enhancing the website to fully provide NCCP Locker instruction, and Coaching Pathway.

Future Outlook:

FBC will continue to develop the Prospect Programs in Moguls and Park. We see the value in connecting the top athletes in BC to provide valuable coaching and training opportunities to progress in their sport. A further focus for the 22/23 season will be put into regional Prospect Programs to enhance athlete development and coach development through mentorship.

Summary:

The past season provided a great opportunity to progress as an association. The upcoming season is looking strong towards developing coaches through the Fundamentalz, Comp Intro, and Comp Dev pathways. With the next year underway of the Prospect Programs, gives new opportunities for both coaches and athletes to progress and provides a sustainable future for Freestyle BC high-performance teams.
